Homeland Security @DHSgov

To clear up various misreporting – DHS's rule on the H-2B cap is on hold pending review due to present economic circumstances. No additional H-2B visas will be released until further notice. Per the statute, H-2B allocations are set in consultation with @USDOL.

DHS is looking at additional measures to protect American workers now and when normal economic activity is able to resume in the future. In the meantime, the @StateDept has suspended routine visa services overseas. travel.state.gov/content/travel...

H 1 B has killed the tech industry for the American worker and our highly skilled American graduates. This is a 30 year problem. it needs to end now!

The other problem is that thanks to the Dems commie control & their Plan to destroy America, our graduates are not prepared for the technical jobs needing to be filled. We cant hire unqualified people/Americans either, so, who will do the jobs? It's quite the quandary.

hospitality, construction, etc. are going to go out of business now because of @DHSgov @USDOL delay in issuing H-2Bs. This is just another example of the #TrumpAdministration making the #COVID19Pandemic worse.

Do you even know what an H2b worker does? They are by definition a "seasonal" worker. In order to hire them, an employer must show many examples of trying to hire American workers and being unable to do so. Many of these jobs involve traveling and living far from home.

Returning H-2B workers are critical to seasonal family businesses like ours.

We employ many Americans whose jobs depend on seasonal workers. SHAME on the think tanks who are using COVID to politicize and prey on fears. #saveh2b #releasethevisas

The only reason why you are tweeting this is because @TuckerCarlson exposed what was going on. Thank you Tucker.

And H-1B ? Instead of recruiting US students, hospitals have imported foreign nurses and then can pay lower salaries. Let's change this.

If you can't stop #H1b and/or #H4EAD, step down from your jobs and train American people for your job. Let us displace you all @ DHS
